RECOVERING LIFE
WELLBEING THROUGH
PAIN SELF-MANAGEMENT
TECHNIQUES INVOLVING ICTs

The first joint procurement of innovative solutions in the healthcare sector to improve chronic pain self-management.

"This project has received funding from the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme under grant agreement No 689476".

Innovate with us !

RELIEF is developing a project to find solutions to the challenge of supporting chronic pain self-management through ICT's. This purpose will be met by developing and launching a novel procurement process consists of 2 stages:

Overview

95 million Europeans suffer from pain, between 4-10% of the adult population.

Chronic pain diseases cost to healthcare systems annually over €300bn in Europe.

Currently, there is a wide range of high-tech devices, but it is still necessary to cover the gap between Research and Commercialization of these products.

RELIEF will foster and accelerate the access to market for innovative solutions using Innovation Pre-commercial procurement procedures.

The RELIEF project started in February 2016 and will run for 36 months. The main objective of the project is the identification of eHealth solutions for chronic pain self-management through the development of a joined Pre-Commercial Procurement.

Objectives

Link European health procurers

Establish and execute an agreed Pre Commercial Public Procurement process to run a cross-border PCP call for tender

Identify new technologies and services to support chronic patients in the management and relief of their pains.

Foster access to market of these ICT solutions and improve not only healthcare systems but also patient's empowerment

PREPARATION STAGE

Are you an ICT supplier? Would you like to get involved in our market consultation?

RELIEF organizes market consultations in Spain, France and Sweden where potential providers and public procurers are able to interact with each other.

Are you a patient or medical association, Health Public body?

Give us your feedback in the user's needs identification to help us in the elaboration of the PCP call for tender.
